

CLAUDIA CAMPAGNOL I'M STRONG

I'M STRONG

FROM THE ALBUM 'I'M STRONG'
MUSIC/LYRICS BY CLAUDIA CAMPAGNOL

In my thin dressing gown
I am wandering around
There are pearls on the floor
I won't wear them no more

From the sun going down
'til the morning hits town
I am dreaming awake
Trying to find the mistake I made

My memories
Coming through my eyes
They're hurting me
But night turns bright
I'm strong

For a while I can sleep
Then I stand upon my feet
Maybe all that has gone
Is now somewhere it belongs

All the paper and ink
Are just words
Words that I sing
But inside I am weak
So I hide what I really feel

Oh, won't you please
Will you come home to me
You're haunting me
The days pass by
I'm strong

In my thin dressing gown
I am wandering around
There are pearls on the floor
I won't wear them no more

From the sun going down
'til the morning hits town
I am dreaming awake

Oh won't you please
Will you come home to me
You're haunting me
The days pass by
I'm strong
